Rho Kappa National Social Studies Honor Society Induction at Orange High School

Submitted Mr. Ceposki, Co Advisor, Co-Advisor of Rho Kappa National Honor Society

On June 8, Orange High School officially inducted the inaugural members of the district's very own chapter of the Rho Kappa National Social Studies Honor Society. In a dual ceremony with newly initiated members of the Beta Club, twenty-seven current Juniors (Class of 2018) were selected to become a part of this organization based on their exemplary grades, dedication to their studies, and connection to the community.

Rho Kappa Social Studies Honor Society is the only national organization for high school juniors and seniors that recognizes excellence in the field of Social Studies. A Rho Kappa chapter provides national recognition for outstanding students, and encourages an interest in, understanding of, and appreciation for the social studies.

Students have already become proactive, beginning to design and plan ways that they can give back to their peers and the community, through the realm of the social studies. The chapter's newly elected Student Executive Board members include: President Tyra Edgehill-Parker, Vice President Kelly Williams, Secretary Jenny Rodriguez, and Treasurer Ami Phillips.

The foundation of the chapter could not have come to fruition without the dedicated work of Ms. Linda Epps, Supervisor of History/Social Studies and Technology and Dr. Terri Russo, Director of Curriculum, Instruction, Professional Development, and Data Assessment. The faculty co-advisors are Mr. Carl A. Ceposki and Mr. Joel Lemke. "We all very much look forward to working with these students throughout the upcoming school year," said Mr. Ceposki.

Deputy Superintendent Dr. Paula Howard, present at the induction ceremony, applauded the event at the district's monthly Board of Education Meeting, congratulating the talents and academic success of the students installed into the Rho Kappa Social Studies Honor Society, and the Beta Club.

The annual Bilingual/ESL Family Fair, which took place June 3, was a special event for the many attendees. The morning began with a continental breakfast and offered information about support services, community resources, academic assistance, such as Latino Family Literacy Project and Elements of Play, and a better understanding of the school district’s mission to support English language learners. Families visited tables and received tickets for a T-shirt. Ms. Caroline Onyesonwu, Supervisor of Bilingual/ESL/World Languages Programs, and her team managed the event and featured an awards presentation for students.

The fair also featured presentations in French, Haitian Creole, and Spanish and offered childcare for children from the ages 5 – 10. There were games and activities for students, and a chance to win prizes.

On June 7, Mr. Christopher Cosmillo and his maverick group “Cos Crew,” (pictured left) accompanied by Mr. David Milnes and Mr. Terrence Thornhill (the stars of TeachTime), lived a day in the life of a NYU student. The group met at the Orange Station and took the train into Penn Station, making their way to campus. Upon arrival, the group explored the NYU, including residence halls, classrooms, the library and various other buildings

After completing the tour the group continued their exploration of the city by walking around Washington Square Park, Broadway, and parts of Greenwich Village, before making their way back to Penn Station and returning home.

Street Hockey Clinic with the NJ Devils

Forest Street School and Orange Prep Academy were recipients of a street hockey clinic with the NJ Devils. Forest Street's clinic (pictured left) was held on July 12. The students were winners of the district-wide Reading Plus All Stars reading competition, part of the district's Orange Page Turners' Reading Challenge. The clinic participants met with Devil's alumnus and mascot and were given lessons in the basics of hockey, allowed to practice what they learned and a few were able to take a "shot" at the Devil's mascot. Students also heard motivational feedback about the importance of staying in school and received giveaways and autographs.

Orange Prep's session will be scheduled at another time.

Can You Survive the Forest Battle Challenge?

Submitted by Bill Donnelly, ESL Teacher, Forest Street School

Ms. Hanson's Kindergarten class is up to "The Battle Challenge!" In fact, many have already taken the challenge and won! What is "The Battle Challenge"? Instead of climbing a really steep and difficult rock wall, this challenge involves surviving a really rigorous Word Wall! Designed by Kindergarten Para-Professional Crystal Battle, the huge Word Wall includes sophisticated, multi-syllable words that Ms. Hanson's class has been practicing throughout the year.

To survive "The Battle Challenge", students who think they are ready come up to the wall in front of the whole class. As Ms. Battle leads them with a pointer, the challenger has to pronounce every single word correctly. After that, each contestant has to select 3 words from the wall and define it. So far, there are four successful Battle Challenge Champions: (in alphabetical order) Leilani Grosset, Malachi Mayes, Emily Osei and Christian Rambaran. Congrats to all of our champions! We are so proud of you. All "Battle Challenge Champions" receive a certificate prepared by Ms. Battle.

Sonic Explorations Year End Performances

Submitted by Mr. Douglas Farrand, Program Teaching Artist, Sonic Explorations, Oakwood Avenue Community School

Sonic Explorations ended the school year with two major performances. On May 20, the 3rd grade drumming ensemble performed with their teaching artist, Queen Mother Imakhu, as a part of the first annual Music City Festival, a local event that celebrates music and musicians in Orange. The students demonstrated what they had learned, during the year, about each of the instruments, from djembes to ocean drums and rainsticks, before performing a piece of music called “Water” that they had developed themselves. “Water” features recitations of poems by Langston Hughes and Useni Eugene Perkins, rich soundscapes using hand percussion to imitate the different sounds of water, and a sequence of drumming patterns that they had practiced during the course of their “drums of compassion” class.

On June 3rd, violin and cello students from Sonic Explorations joined 150 other students from the El Sistema New Jersey Alliance, a consortium of seven El Sistema-inspired programs in the state, for the annual Fiddle-and-Fa-La-La Festival. This year the festival included a full day of rehearsals for students, siblings, and parents alike, which culminated in a performance at John F Kennedy High School in Paterson NJ. Program teaching artists Douglas Farrand and Julia Henderson assisted a selection of Oakwood’s most talented violinists and cellists, as they performed Can-Can by Jacque Offenbach, Three Little Birds by Bob Marley, and Lift Every Voice and Sing by James and John Johnson, which was conducted by Oakwood’s string teacher Terrence Thornhill.

National Gun Violence Awareness Day

On June 2, National Gun Violence Awareness Day, Mr. Reggie Miller, who heads the Male Student Support Program in the district, led students and staff with placards, from Orange Preparatory Academy to march in front of Central Playground, side by side, in solidarity for the occasion. June 2 is a day in which people around the country wear Orange to bring attention to the epidemic of gun violence that kills 90 Americans each day.
